

A Creative Convergence

Addison Art and the Cape Cod Museum of Art to host exhibit of renowned painters' works.

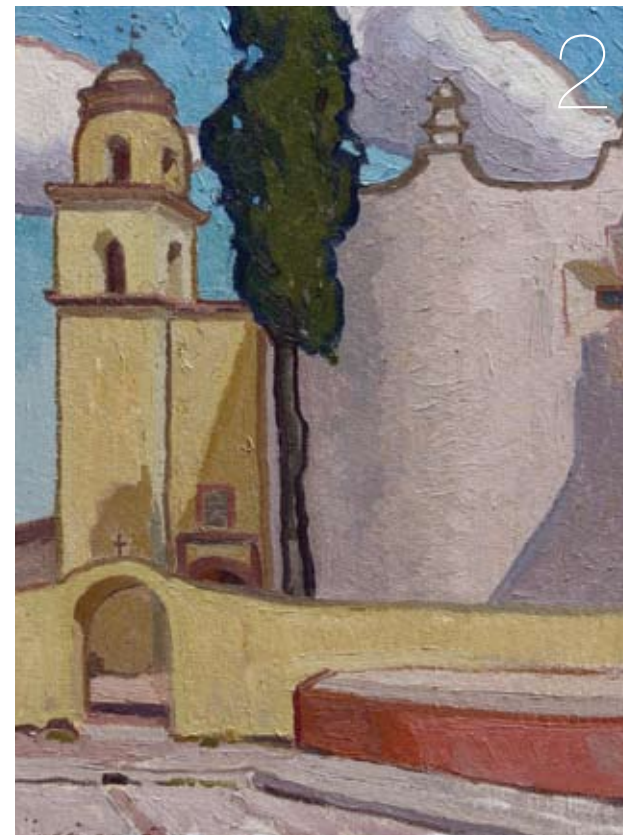

In the fall of 2009, award-winning painters with roots and homes from across the United States and from Mexico, Ireland, Bulgaria, and Russia met in San Miguel de Allende, Mexico for a creative convergence that will be showcased this winter at the Cape Cod Museum of Art in Dennis and at the Addison Art Gallery in Orleans.

Inspired by San Miguel de Allende's art colony and the region's magnificent landscape, these 15 artists created wonderfully diverse plein air works. The artists will bring their works together for these exclusive Cape shows. The artists will include Jeff Bonasia, Scott Burdick, Daniel Corey, Frank Gardner, Jerome Greene, Logan Hagege, Marc Hanson, Ignat Ignatov, Peter Kalill, Jeremy Lipking, Kevin McNamara, Ernesto Nemesio, Colin Page, Paul Schulenburg, and Alexey Steele.

"Impressionist landscape painters are drawn to the beauty of light falling across the landscape. We live at a time when this art has reached a high level of excellence. Since the 19th century, Cape Cod had been a center for plein air painting because of the special quality of its light and sculptural aspects," says Elizabeth Ives Hunter, executive director of the Cape Cod Museum of Art. "It is a rare treat to see an internationally trained group of impressionist painters focus on one of the other amazing regions of the world."

"Once again, Addison Art Gallery has the privilege of presenting the work of internationally renowned painters on Cape Cod," says Helen Addison, owner of Addison Art Gallery. "These accomplished artists have created inspired interpretations of subjects, ranging from sun-soaked portraits and town vignettes to sweeping landscapes. Together in this exhibition, these diverse incarnations offer an integrated sense of a magical place, its people, and their lives."

1. Café Study by Paul Schulenburg, oil, 12" x 9"
2. Church at Atononilco by Logan Hagege, oil, 12" x 9"
3. City of San Miguel by Kevin McNamara, oil on canvas board, 16" x 20"

SHOW SPECIFICS

Cape Cod Museum of Art
Exhibition dates:

January 12—February 28
Reception: Friday, February 12
from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.
60 Hope Lane,
off Route 6A, Dennis

Addison Art Gallery
Exhibition dates:

January 9—March 31
Reception: Saturday, February 13
from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.
43 Route 28, Orleans

Cape Cod Museum of Art
En Plein Air Painters

A Creative Convergence
Artists' Talk
Friday, February 12
1:00 to 2:00 p.m.

