

February

White Satin and White Linens oil on panel Paul Schulenburg 24 x 18, framed 30 x 24 $3,300

Opening Receptions

Saturday, February 11 from 5:30 to 7:30 Courting the Figure
For well over 100 years, Cape Cod artists have gathered together to work and support each other in their individual creative pursuits. This tradition continues today with distinguished, established and promising, emerging artists pursuing the challenges and rewards of painting, drawing and sculpting the figure together.

This intriguing show includes new work by master artist and mentor Paul Schulenburg, and also features work by Patricia Bangert, Patrick Blackwell, George Booth, Sally Bassett Dickeson, Maryalice Eizenberg, Celine R. Federici, Jerome Greene, Kely Knowles, Robert LaPointe, Susan O'Brien McLean, Andrea Petitto, Lila Seveda, Julie Snyder, Cleber Stecei, Ewa Tomasian and Dale Wade.

New sculptures from Castle Hill's Clay from Life Group, including work by well-known artists Heather Blume, Del Filardi, Joyce Johnson, and others add a wonderful dimensionality to the exhibit.

Saturday, February 18 from 5:30 to 7:30 The Season of Inspiration

Fort Hill Overlooking the National Seashore oil on linen Jonathan McPhillips 24 x 36, framed 34 x 46 $5,200

Quieter times allow one's inner inspiration to come to fruition, often in ways distinctly different from other truly creative works. Please join us for this exhibition of exceptional new works by gallery and invited artists and the continuing Courting the Figure show.

Talks and demonstrations

Questions are most welcome, providing a wonderful opportunity to develop a deeper understanding of the creative processes behind the work one collects.

Contemplating Freedom oil Maryalice Eizenberg 24 x 24, framed 32 x 32 $2,200

Saturdays, February 11 and 18 from 11:00 to 1:00 Windows into the Artistic Process
Maryalice Eizenberg and Kely Knowles offer an opportunity to observe the way they approach painting using different media. Maryalice will be working in oils, from dark to light, and Kely will be working in watercolor, from light to dark. Guests are invited to join the discussion while the artists demonstrate how they choose a composition, articulate forms and develop their paintings.

Man with Blue Jeans On oil on canvas Andrea Petitto 12 x 9, framed 18.5 x 14.5 $375

Saturday, February 11 from 3:00 to 5:00 Painting Live with Paul Schulenburg and Andrea Petitto
Collectors and art lovers are invited to watch Paul Schulenburg and Andrea Petitto paint a live model, illustrating the interesting differences between brush and palette knife techniques. The artists will talk about deciding on a pose and composition, setting up the environment and capturing the emotional quality of the gesture, body language and facial expression of the model. Andrea and Paul will discuss drawing shapes and rendering values, mixing colors then applying them in ways that bring life to the painting.

Saturday, February 18 from 4:00 to 5:00 Behind Bronze from Pose to Patina with Joyce Johnson

The most popular metal for sculptures, bronze offers permanence, retention of detail and a wide array of finishes for the most intricate shapes. Join sculptor Joyce Johnson who will show some of the over 25 steps necessary to produce a finished bronze sculpture.
