

It was one of those March days when the sun shines hot and the wind blows cold:
when it was summer in the light
and winter in the shade.

Pieces of Light oil on canvas Colin Page 12 x 16, framed 13.75 x 17.75 $950

"I love the drama that comes from light glancing across the water. The top right section of this painting feels like it glows, and that sets the tone for the rest of this piece." Colin Page

Colin's Artist's Statement

Painting is my release. It involves a certain amount of emotional, intellectual, and physical concentration all at once. After I paint I feel refreshed, excited and drained.

Painting is making everyday scenes into the poetic. Through painting a place I find moments of beauty in the space around me. The painting should look as though it breathes and has a life and presence of its own. All of my paintings are done almost entirely on site and are meant to capture the atmospheric feeling along with my own moods of each part of that day.

With respect to both the technical and spiritual aspects of art, I am guided by the paintings and words of Rembrandt van Rijn, Pierre Bonnard, Henri Matisse, Richard Diebenkorn, Don Kunz, Claude Monet, and Willem deKooning, among others.

"I'm thrilled to be joining Addison Gallery. It's a great space, and I'm excited to have a stronger connection to the Cape. I look forward to being a part of such a wonderful gallery." Colin Page
