Nick Patten chooses Addison Art

Described as "an American Vermeer," Nick Patten is a widely collected realist known for stunning interiors and still lifes. Many collectors will be familiar with his work from his 2009 One Man Show at the Cape Cod Museum of Art and the years that Nick had his own successful gallery in Chatham. Now residing in New York State, Nick has chosen Addison Art to be his exclusive representative in this region. For more information, please click here.

"I prefer winter and fall, when you feel the bone structure of the landscape - the loneliness of it, the dead feeling of winter. Something waits beneath it, the whole story doesn't show."

Andrew Wyeth

Bravo! Another Copley Artist Joins Addison

Eli Cedrone graduated from the School of Art and Design in Boston and studied art in Italy and at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Her professional career began as an art director at Saatchi & Saatchi Advertising in Bermuda, followed by work as an illustrator and editorial designer in Laguna Beach, CA. Her paintings have been exhibited nationwide and, in the alla prima method of painting, she is a popular workshop instructor in the US and abroad.

A Show of Gratitude

On Saturday, November 28, from 5:30 to 7:30, the Addison Art Gallery will hold our annual Thanksgiving weekend reception for a show of new works.

Previews are available at the gallery and at addisonart.com.

The November, 2009 issue of American Art Collector features the masterful oils of Colin Page. This national exposure has already expanded Colin's collector base.

Colin is a young artist whose works belie his age. He recently returned from a painting trip to Mexico (click Creative Convergence) and will be heading to Hawaii with his painting gear in February.

"I like spring, but it is too young. I like summer, but it is too proud. So I like best of all autumn, because its tone is mellow, its colours are richer, and it is tinged with a little sorrow. Its golden richness speaks not of the innocence of spring, nor the power of summer, but of the mellowness and kindly wisdom of approaching age. It knows the limitations of life and its content."

Colin has impressive talent (I've been awed by the established artists who have come into the gallery just to study his work), joyful energy and a most admirable dedication to creating works of beauty.

Regional and national art events to come

The February Creative Convergence exhibitions and talks will bring internationally recognized and rooted artists to Cape Cod for exclusive shows at the Addison Art Gallery and the Cape Cod Museum of Art.

According to Elizabeth Ives Hunter, Executive Director, Cape Cod Museum of Art, "We are fortunate to be able to work with the Addison Art Gallery in presenting this exhibition which represents a local painting tradition in a much larger context."

With our gratitude

On the behalf of our artists, and others associated with Addison Art, I offer my sincerest gratitude to all of our collectors. Your patronage allows us to continue to be a vibrant member of our country's art scene and a supportive member of our community. Thank you.
