Eric Emile Walker . . .

Involved with art in his youth in Michigan, where he was born in 1962, Eric never lost his fascination with museums and the work of the Masters. He studied and continues to study them. He feels these works on canvas compel him to hold a brush in his hand.

A member of Oil Painters of America and the American Impressionist Society, Eric has shown in Ireland, France and the United States. He had two paintings accepted into the 2007 National Juried Exhibit of the American Impressionist Society and received an Award of Distinction for "A Quiet Harbor." ## Rick Fleury . . .

. . . has an approach to landscape and a mastery of oil that led the Cape Cod Museum of Art to honor him with a solo show in 2006. The Executive Committee of the Copley Society, the oldest non-profit art association in the United States, sought him out in his Cape Cod studio and invited him to become a member.

Rick's work can be found in private collections throughout the United States as well as in the permanent collections of the Cape Cod Museum of Art and the Provincetown Art Association and Museum.

"I'm honored to be part of the AddisonArt roster, to say the least, and am enjoying every minute of this exhilarating new relationship.

September will mark my first show at Addison -- starting out promptly on the first - with Eric Emile Walker. And, sharing a Sunday on the lawn with back-to-back demos. A great way to start the month, my favorite of the year on Cape Cod! Thanks to you all for such a warm and enthusiastic welcome."

On Thursday, September 6, Rick will kick off the Cape Museum's Fall and Winter Line-up of "One Night Stands," collaborations of creating on the spot, art, music, dance and atmosphere.
